We make hand-tossed, East Coast-style pizza that is baked in a true hearth brick oven & not on a conveyor belt. When my father emigrated from Naples, Italy in 1967, he brought with him his love for Italian cuisine. In 1972 my parents opened their pizzeria in Arlington, MA. All of our recipes have their roots from this historic establishment. When we opened our Provo store in 2005, we brought Boston's laid back culture to our Utah restaurant, where we have a casual atmosphere with employees who pride themselves on having good relationships with our customers. We've added some of the culinary flare of the West Coast for a unique twist on our authentic, homemade East Coast recipes that everyone is sure to love!
